

Master 2, Specialization in Migration Studies

All courses are taught in English (except the elective course)

Semester 3

For all Master 2 programs:

- UE Social sciences approaches to migrations 1, 6 ECTS
 - Sociology of migrations (lecture), 18h
 - History of migrations (lecture), 18h
 - Citizenship, vote and migrations (lecture), 18h
- UE Law approaches to migrations 1: Immigration Law (lecture), 20h, 3 ECTS
- UE Thematic seminars 1 (tutorial), 26h, 3 ECTS
- UE Elective course, 3 ECTS
- UE General Skills, 3 ECTS
 - Language (French, or Advanced English, or Other - tutorial), 12h
 - Migration and Human Rights NGOs (tutorial), 6h, OR Volunteering in a NGO
 - Project building in local, national and international contexts (tutorial), 6h

Master 2 Social sciences and Political science:

- UE Research and professional project 1, 12 ECTS
 - Qualitative research methods (tutorial), 9h
 - Quantitative research methods (tutorial), 9h
 - Building a research project (tutorial), 6h
 - Designing a professional/research project (individual supervision)

Master 2 International and European law:

- UE Research and professional project 1, 12 ECTS
 - Methods related to the internship/research project
 - Conferences
 - English for legal studies (tutorial), 15h

Semester 4

For all Master 2 programs:

- UE Social sciences approaches to migrations 2: Sociology of interethnic relations (lecture), 3 ECTS
- UE Law approaches to migration 2: Immigration Law (lecture), 20h, 3 ECTS
- UE Thematic seminars 2 (tutorial), 14h, 3 ECTS
- UE Contemporary migration politics (lecture), 12h, 3 ECTS

Master 2 Social sciences and Political science:

- UE Research and professional project 2, 18 ECTS
 - Qualitative research methods (tutorial), 9h TD
 - Quantitative research methods (tutorial), 9h TD
 - Archive skills and tools (tutorial), 9h TD
 - Dissertation (related to the internship or the research project)

Master 2 International and European law:

- UE Research and professional project 1, 12 ECTS
 - Dissertation (related to the internship or the research project)
 - Conferences
 - English for legal studies (tutorial), 15h

Information about the research and professional project, and the related dissertation:

Students can choose to conduct a research project or to complete an internship in an organization concerned with migration and ethnic issues.

If they choose to carry out a research project, they actively participate in the academic life of one of the research centers linked to the program.

There are fewer courses during the second semester and they are concentrated on the beginning of the semester so that students have time to carry out their research project, or their internship, and prepare their dissertation. Internships must last at least three months.

At the end of Master 2 (either in June or in September), students submit a dissertation based on their research project or internship (between 30 000 and 40 000 words). This dissertation should be related to the discipline of their respective Master's programs (international and European law, social sciences or political science) but can also develop interdisciplinary analyses.